Detail Reading

FOREHEAD

(Ages 15 to 30)

The forehead governs a person's life journey from age 15 to 30. This is a golden period of a person life. If somehow a person's forehead is narrow and filled with moles, this particular period will be faced with difficulties, obstacles and challenges. This particular person will also having difficulties in relationships with parents as well as superiors.

Wide forehead

Persons with such a forehead normally will get help from angels, superiors or elderly without even seeking it. Such persons will have a better standard of living right before age 30. Since the wide forehead also represents mobility, such persons will engage in frequent travels. Such persons are also prone to migration.

High/tall forehead

This is similar to the above except that a well-defined forehead will be protected by the ancestors' graveyard or yin Feng Shui.

Low forehead

This is the reverse of the above in that a low forehead might not be able to excel before age 30 and these persons lack the guidance of angels.

Stick-out forehead (concave shape)

A person with such a forehead is slow in decision-making because of being slow in thoughts or thoroughness. Such a person is a calculative type that will hide his or her true feelings.

Convex forehead

This is the reverse of the above concave type. Such persons are quick in decision-making processes because of quick actions. The weakness of such persons is they are hot tempered and act on impulse.
