Book of Tao by Laotze-Tao The Ching

Chapter 26-Heaven and Lightness

Gravity is the root of lightness

Stillness is the master of movement

Therefore the Sage travels all day long

He does not leave behind his provision-cart

In spite of his glory and dignity

He has a peaceful mind and remains unmoved to such honorable

Condition

How can the ruler of a country
Make light of his body for pleasure and act rashly?
One acting lightly is easy to lose his root
The ruler acting rashly is easy to lose his honorable status

Chapter 27-Perfect Person

Perfect man (sage) doing deeds for others leaves no trace for he is doing them according to nature
Good speech out of one's purified mind leaves no flaws to censure
A skillful mathematician uses no tallies
A good door is well shut without bolts and cannot be opened
A good knot is tied without rope and cannot be loosened
Therefore, the Sage is always good at helping others. Hence he does not cast away anyone
He is good at saving things
So, he does not cast away anything
We call him a Sage because he had inherited perfect virtue from the ancient people
Therefore, the good man is the teacher of the bad
The bad one's evil deeds could be utilized as lessons to teach the good
The perfect man does not value his teaching qualification
Henceforth, he does not wish to find bad one's lessons to educate the good
Despite his best wisdom he still looks like a fool
Hence, he is the one knowing the important tenet of the Tao.

We cannot change the weather conditions but we can condition ourselves to fit the weather

Human is the most intelligent animal. We seek safety and comfort living, with Maslow hierarchy of needs, in each level; we will encounter different level of paradigms shifts. We can and adapt easily as we move up each level, however, the problem is when we retreat backward, and it is a disastrous move as we possess more to less. Strong courage and a complete shift in paradigm are required in order to adapt and adjust from being more to less.
The key word here is what if you already foresaw such predicament might happen in your life. You can condition yourself to fit the weather. Hope for the best and be prepared for the worst ought to be a dictum in our life.

Life is in a queue in line, a queue to face obstacles and challengers
Life is full of challengers and obstacles, this is the fact.
However, if you persist, just like a queue in line your turn will come and there is always a bright light at the end of the tunnel. Face reading provides a clue as to when you will see the light at the tunnel.

Travel Feng Shui-Overall

Travel is a kind of remedy for Feng shui that will rejuvenate a person's life journey. The destination is rather critical for different persons. If you are already equipped with 'kind' energies (based on your life reading), going to the right destination will help boost these energies further and create synergistic outcomes. If you equipped with 'unkind' energies (based on your life reading) then going to the right destination will help to reduce your unkind energies and burdens of life.

Summer born persons (May 5th to August 7th)

If you are born in the hot summer, you are a Fire element person that requires the balancing agent of water and water represents the North sector. Find out your birthplace and travel north to harness your best possible energies. You can use your country as a focal point, divide it into four parts, and dictate where the North location is. Travel north if you need soul-searching, a sabbatical, or whenever you feel like getting away from your area. This is where you can reduce your unkind energies and harness the kind energies into your life.

Spring born persons (Feb 4th to May 5th)

Spring is heavy in Wood and Earth is what you need to fence off an excessive wood element. In this case northwest is the solution. Divide your country into eight parts, find out where the places that located in the Northwest, and fly there! This way you can be assured to attract kind energies into your life.

Winter born persons (Oct 9th to Feb 3rd)

If you are born in winter, you are a heavy Water element person. As such, you should travel south or southwest to help elevate your kind energies or reduce your unkind energies. Bring out a map and find out the venue of your birthplace and from there you can figure out where to go for your best locations to travel. Alternatively, you can use your country as a focal point, divide it into eight parts, and dictate where the south and southwest locations are.

Autumn born persons (August 8th to Oct 9th)

Autumn season is associated with the Metal element so a Wood element is required to rebalance such portfolio. Wood represents the direction of East. Bring out a map and find out the venue of your birthplace and from there you can figure out where to go for your best location to travel. In addition, you can use your country as a focal point, divide it into four parts, and dictate where the East sector is. Make sure you do follow such favorable location(s) to harness your best kind energies to bring back to your home or office.
