Five lessons to make you think about the way we treat people.

1 - First Important Lesson - Cleaning Lady.

During my second month of college, our professor gave us a pop quiz. I was a conscientious student and had breezed through the questions until I read the last one:

"What is the first name of the woman who cleans the school?"

Surely this was some kind of joke. I had seen the cleaning woman several times. She was tall, dark-haired and in her 50s, but how would I know her name?

I handed in my paper, leaving the last question blank. Just before class ended, one student asked if the last question would count toward our quiz grade.

"Absolutely," said the professor. "In your careers, you will meet many people. All are significant. They deserve your attention and care, even if all you do is smile and say "hello."

I've never forgotten that lesson. I also learned her name was Dorothy.

2. - Second Important Lesson - Pickup in the Rain

One night, at 11:30 p.m., an elderly African-American woman was standing on the side of an Alabama highway trying to endure a lashing rainstorm. Her car had broken down and she desperately needed a ride. Soaking wet, she decided to flag down the next car. A young white man stopped to help her, generally unheard of in those conflict-filled 60s.. The man took her to safety, helped her get assistance and put her into a taxicab. She seemed to be in a big hurry, but wrote down his address and thanked him. Seven days went by and a knock came on the man's door. To his surprise, a giant console color TV was delivered to his home. A special note was attached..

It read:

"Thank you so much for assisting me on the highway the other night. The rain drenched not only my clothes, but also my spirits. Then you came along. Because of you, I was able to make it to my dying husband's bedside just before he passed away... God bless you for helping me and unselfishly serving others."

Sincerely, Mrs. Nat King Cole.

3 - Third Important Lesson - Always remember those who serve.

In the days when an ice cream sundae cost much less, a 10-year-old boy entered a hotel coffee shop and sat at a table. A waitress put a glass of water in front of him.

"How much is an ice cream sundae?" he asked...

"Fifty cents," replied the waitress.

The little boy pulled his hand out of his pocket and studied the coins in it.

"Well, how much is a plain dish of ice cream?" he inquired.

By now more people were waiting for a table and the waitress was growing impatient.

"Thirty-five cents," she brusquely replied.

The little boy again counted his coins.

"I'll have the plain ice cream," he said.

The waitress brought the ice cream, put the bill on the table and walked away. The boy finished the ice cream, paid the cashier and left. When the waitress came back, she began to cry as she wiped down the table. There, placed neatly beside the empty dish, were two nickels and five pennies..

You see, he couldn't have the sundae, because he had to have enough left to leave her a tip.

4 - Fourth Important Lesson. - The obstacle in Our Path.

In ancient times, a King had a boulder placed on a roadway. Then he hid himself and watched to see if anyone would remove the huge rock. Some of the king's wealthiest merchants and courtiers came by and simply walked around it. Many loudly blamed the King for not keeping the roads clear, but none did anything about getting the stone out of the way.

Then a peasant came along carrying a load of vegetables. Upon approaching the boulder, the peasant laid down his burden and tried to move the stone to the side of the road. After much pushing and straining, he finally succeeded. After the peasant picked up his load of vegetables, he noticed a purse lying in the road where the boulder had been. The purse contained many gold coins and a note from the King indicating that the gold was for the person who removed the boulder from the roadway. The peasant learned what many of us never understand!

Every obstacle presents an opportunity to improve our condition.

5 - Fifth Important Lesson - Giving When it Counts...

Many years ago, when I worked as a volunteer at a hospital, I got to know a little girl named Liz who was suffering from a rare & serious disease. Her only chance of recovery appeared to be a blood transfusion from her 5-year old brother, who had miraculously survived the same disease and had developed the antibodies needed to combat the illness. The doctor explained the situation to her little brother, and asked the little boy if he would be willing to give his blood to his sister.

I saw him hesitate for only a moment before taking a deep breath and saying, "Yes I'll do it if it will save her." As the transfusion progressed, he lay in bed next to his sister and smiled, as we all did, seeing the color returning to her cheek. Then his face grew pale and his smile faded.

He looked up at the doctor and asked with a trembling voice, "Will I start to die right away".

Being young, the little boy had misunderstood the doctor; he thought he was going to have to give his sister all of his blood in order to save her.

"Work like you don't need the money, love like you've never been hurt, and dance like you do when nobody's watching."

Stories from Ancient Chinese Wisdom

80-storeys

There was once a couple try to go back to their home at 80th storey high. They were carrying bags on their way up. Before reaching 20th storey, they were energetic and filled with funs on their face and heart. Beyond 20th storey mark, they felt the bags were too heavy and left the bags on the 25th storey. As each step approaching 40th storey, they condemning each other and both were grumpy about not bringing water from the bag. They kept moving upward and by the time they reached beyond 60th storey, they have less to say and just looked at each other with glimpse on their face. The journey from 60 to 80 were monotonous and rather dull, by the time they reached 80-storey and realized that they left the house key in the bag at 25th storey!

(Looking back in retrospect. Most important decisions are made in the earlier twenties. Your prime time's actions and activities shaped your identity and created a path for your journey. That is why we should always refer and check our instinct or inner heart for the true answers in life).

The Mice

There was once a little wise was envy about the sky and said 'sky, sky, I admire you very much because you are the best, you covered the whole world and you are the invincible. Sky then replied and said 'no, no, I am not invincible, I am afraid of clouds, because clouds do block my view as and when they wanted'. The little mice then went to clouds and said 'dear clouds, I envy you all very much and you are the best and invincible'. The clouds replied and said, 'no, no, we are not, we afraid of wind, because wind will blow us away as and when the wind wanted'. The mice then went to see the wind and said 'dear wind, I envy and admire you the most because you are invincible'. The Wind said 'no, no I am not invincible, I am afraid of walls, because walls will block and knock me down badly'. The mice then went to visit the walls and said 'dear walls, I envy you the most because you are so strong and invincible'. The walls looked at the mice and said 'I do not think so, because you eat up holes on my walls as and when you wanted and I think you are invisible!

(We are all invincible)

The Goat and Turtle Race

There was once a goat challenged the Turtle for a race and the turtle agreed to race him the next day. During the race, the over-confidence goat looked down the turtle and said to him 'you will never going to beat me as my speed is much faster than you are'. The turtle replied 'say no more and let the race begin'. Just after the starting point, the over confidence goat asked 'Where are you turtle? You are nowhere to be found'. He then heard voice in front of him and realized that was the turtle. 'You better catch-up, I am in front of you' said the turtle. The goat then runs to the fullest and after a while, he looked around and asked again 'Where are you turtle? You are nowhere to be found'. The voice came out from the woods and said, 'You better catch-up, I am in front of you' said the turtle. The over-confidence goat started to tumble and in deep fear. It was rather obvious that his over-confidence started to diminish, he continues to run to the fullest, and by the time, he reached the finishing point the turtle already there. The goat wept and his confidence was totally wiped out.

(Knowing the race was one-day later, turtle gathered all his family members to line up from the starting point until the finishing point. The intelligence is better than the speed!)

The Smart Kid and the old Wise Man

One day, a smart kid try to challenge an old wise man by asking him a question, "You are a wise man known to have all the answers in life with advance, I am holding a bird in my hand, do you know the little bird 'alive or dead'?. The old wise man was a bit shock, knowing if he answer alive, the smart kid would have killed the bird, at the same token of his answer was dead, he would have set the bird free. The wise man was caught in between hard and a rock place. Guess what the wise man answer was. "The fate of the bird lies in your hand', he then walked away.

Feng Shui Taboo

Feng Shui Taboo

1. Mirror in bedroom causes bad relationship.

This is not true at all. The only thing that might cause you is a headache. Try this on for size, imagine you wake up in the middle of the night without a light on and see yourself in the mirror, you might scare yourself off!

2. The toilet should not be located in the center.

Can't seem to put into logic as the ancient Chinese will never have their toilets anywhere else except outside main building. The only rational is the hygienic part, but as long as you keep your toilet clean and constantly close your toilet door things should be in order.

3. Number 4 is bad and number 3 is good.

The Chinese main language is Mandarin while most popular dialect is Cantonese and therefore is only logic to have beliefs about the phonetic meanings of certain numbers. 4 sounded like 'dead' while 3 sounded like 'alive'. Surprising the reverse is true in Feng Shui flying star numbers where the 4-star is good for a academic excellent while 3-star is associated with 'grievances'. Let's not blame your luck when you live in 4th, 14th etc floor. Just keep in mind that 4 will enhance your intellectual capability.

4. T-Junction brings bad luck for business.

The energies create in such area certainly indulge some uncertainly but never assume such energies are bad. Certain busy places in cosmopolitan like New York, Hong Kong and London to name a few whereby such settings bring in fortunes. Never assume things, just think logic will help your Feng Shui adventure a more meaning one.

5. Fish Tank represents Wealth

It is a common practice to place a fish tank in the wealth sector and therefore created the confusion that fish tank equals wealth. This is taken for granted by many. Is it the fish tank? The fish? Or the water that created the magic touch? The answer to my best knowledge: It is the movement created by the fish inside the water that matters. The movement of fish or any object in the wealth sector ignites the subtle fortune energies and thus brings in the kind energies into your family.

6. Red color is auspicious at all occasions

Traditionally, red is acronym with auspicious and celebration in Chinese culture. Nevertheless please keep in mind that red is strong fire and it is a strong Yang energy, therefore one should not take for granted that red is auspicious for all occasions, especially come to main door or your bedroom color. Certain people should avoid using red color, for those born in hot summer should not use this color either.

7. Black is Inauspicious Color at all occasions

This is also a traditional belief that black brings bad luck in ancient Chinese culture. Certain people will find black color bring kind energies to them-for those who born in hot summer will find water element brings such energies to them, this is because black color is water element. Only those born in cool winter will find this inauspicious to them.

8. Graveyard at vicinity will bring bad luck

Traditionally, ancient Chinese or even today Chinese place great emphasis on the Yin Feng Shui whereby their ancestor graveyard is treated as most critical factor that will determine the fame and fortunes of the young ones. As such, such area should be good Feng Shui to begin with. At the same token, since such area carry too much yin energies as well as psychological impact on the living beings to live close to graveyard, most people will avoid living close to such area. Should your apartment or house near such area, as long as you feel good about it, you should stay there.

This Should Be Posted In All Schools

-by BILL GATES

Love him or hate him, he sure hits the nail on the head with this! To anyone with kids of any age, here's some advice. Bill Gates recently gave a speech at a High School about 11 things they did not and will not learn in school. He talks about how feel-good, politically correct teachings created a generation of kids with no concept of reality and how this concept set them up for failure in the real world.

Rule 1: Life is not fair - get used to it!

Rule 2 : The world won't care about your self-esteem. The world will expect you to accomplish something BEFORE you feel good about yourself.

Rule 3 : You will NOT make $60,000 a year right out of high school. You won't be a vice-president with a car phone until you earn both.

Rule 4 : If you think your teacher is tough, wait till you get a boss.

Rule 5 : Flipping burgers is not beneath your dignity. Your Grandparents had a different word for burger flipping: they called it opportunity.

Rule 6 : If you mess up, it's not your parents' fault, so don't whine about your mistakes, learn from them.

Rule 7 : Before you were born, your parents weren't as boring as they are now. They got that way from paying your bills, cleaning your clothes and listening to you talk about how cool you thought you were. So before you save the rain forest from the parasites of your parent's generation, try delousing the closet in your own room.

Rule 8 : Your school may have done away with winners and losers, but life HAS NOT. In some schools, they have abolished failing grades and they'll give you as MANY TIMES as you want to get the right answer. This doesn't bear the slightest resemblance to ANYTHING in real life.

Rule 9 : Life is not divided into semesters. You don't get summers off and very few employers are interested in helping you FIND YOURSELF. Do that on your own time.

Rule: 10: Television is NOT real life. In real life people actually have to leave the coffee shop and go to jobs.

Rule 11 : Be nice to nerds. Chances are you'll end up working for one.
